When that weather gets still & warm let the suffraging go on nicely. Will send down up soon

Dear Louis. I am still at Swetts & may possibly remain there. Have been over to Alameda & have inspected the tank cell - The Dr kindly offers either the tank or a room in his house - Have been to 760 14th St to inquire about Young's little girl fearing more & more as I approached the house that the little thing was dead. & so it proved.
Mrs Selfridge came to the door & told me that the poor little baby woman died last Saturday. They are trying to take the poor wretched body back to Alaska.
Young has not yet heard the sad sad news. I'm very sorry for him.

I make slow progress with my scheme.

Cherries are quite low. better send in the white cherries in large boxes. the smallest ought to be culled out, & sold to the pedlars at any price, as the canners don't want them. Tell all you can at home. Send a box to Mr Baker
